THE NORFOLK Landmark recomvices in Congress next winter. It is extraordinary contingences. none too soon to be looking out for a should be near to the Administration, and improve with time. It would add dignity and impressiveness to the ceremonies for a Democratic Cabinet official to pronounce the In Memoriam of a Republican ex-President, and largely serve to smooth away all traces of partisan asperity. That the recommendation of the Postmaster-General in this connection should have come from Virginia is also not the least of the considerations which entitle it to attention and acceptance.

IT WILL surprise no one to learn that Louis Riel, the leader of the Saskatchewan rebellion, has been found guilty and condemned to death. The court before which he was tried was organized to convict. A severe example was deemed necessary to terrorize the spirit of insubordination in the Northwest, and Riel can hardly look for a respite or a commutation of his hind him a cause with merit enough Prohibitionists, who have, to have given him distinction as the liberator of an oppressed people had he redress of the grievances which provoked his rebellion. It is but just to assume, however, that the sentiments fathered by the St. James Gazette are not the sentiments of the people, but limited to the circles wherein the action of Cardinal Manning and his associates hasgiven most offence. We do not question that men of the pattern of Sir Charles Dilke entertain but poor opinion of all measures that may be adopted for the uncovering and castigation of their indecencies.

It should be stated in the case of the Gorman children that under an act of the last Congress they will be entitled to a small pension, expiring as they severally reach the age of sixteen years. The amount, however, will be barely enough to subsist them. There are manys intervening expenses to be met and much to be done for them which the pension will not cover. The youngest is about two years of age and the oldest thirteen or fourteen, and the good people of Washington, in respect to the memory of a faithful officer as well as on the score of humanity, will doubtless see that they are comfortably provided for.

SHERRY CHICKEN

introduced a new drink into the boundless West. Upon his arrival at Omaha a lot of reporters were in waiting, having been very unceremoniously snubbed by the great man, who refused to see them. He and his party had found quarters at the Millard, and during the interval properly allowed the distinguished visitor for toilet purposes after his soiling voyage, the reporters in waiting were grouped in the bar room. Ten minutes had passed when a porter bustled in with a salver. "A sherry chicken for 128," he called to the pre scription man.

Now "a sherry chicken" in this country is something so novel in the line of drinks, that even the expert reporters were lost to the knowledge of its nature. and edged about the bar to see what the mixologist would make of it.

"Sherry chicken," said he, musingly, pausing an instant; "I suppose that's the latest caper for sherry and egg." So, with the skill of a veteran, he threw together the ingredients of that great invigorating mixture and posted A minute had barely elapsed when the porter came flying in, returning the drink untouched. "128, Mr. Adams, says that what you don't know about drinks would make a big book. He wants a sherry chicken like they make 'cm in Boston-a little ice, more sugar and most sherry. He says he never saw anything like that yellow stuff, and would just as soon drink it as to eat beat beans without a piece of fat sidin'."

Barkeeper whistled softly to himself and put up the order without a word or question, but there was a big interrogation point on his face as he set the repudiated drink behind the bar and glanced up at the grinning press gang, slowly filing out of the room.-[Cheyenne (Wyo.) Leader.

"My little boy," said a gentleman,

"They hain't, eh?" the boy replied with his mouth full. "Guess you don't know much about 'em, Mister. Three In sums to suit at 6 per cent

Frightful Case of a Colored Man.

I contracted a fearful case of blood poison in 1883. I was treated by some of the best physicians in Atlanta. They used the old remedies of Mercury and Potash, which brought on rhematism and impaired my digestive organs. Every joint in me was swollen and full of pain. When I was given up to die, my physicians thought it would be a good time to test the virtue of Swift's Specific. When I commenced taking S. S. the physician said I could not live two weeks under the ordinary treatment. He commenced to give me the medicine strictly according to directions, which I continued for several months. I took nothing clas, and commenced to improve from the very first. Soon the rheumatism left me, my appetite became all right, and the ulcers, which the doctor said were the most frightful he had ever seen, he gan to heal, and by the last of October, 1884, was a well man again. I am strugger how than I ever was before, and weigh more. S. S. has saved me from an early in more. S. S. has saved me from an early in more.
